YELLOW STREAK APPEAL WILL FAIL

Declares George W. Perkins in a Sizzling Arraignment of Vance McCormick.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The following letter was sent to the chairman of the Democratic national committee Friday afternoon by George W. Perkins, of the Republican national committee:

Mr. Vance McCormick, chairman of the Democratic national committee, 30 East 42nd street, City.

Dear Sir: My attention has just been called to a statement by you published this morning, in which you viciously attack me in connection with some advertising that is being done in the papers, favoring Mr. Hughes's election.

You are conducting the Democratic campaign from behind a shield in front of your office from which is displayed the slogan, peace, preparation, prosperity, and above this shield are draped a number of American flags. The campaign you are thus conducting is one of downright deception and a man of your intelligence must know that it is deception, that it is misleading.

This country is not at peace. It has not been kept out of war. There has been no preparation, and our prosperity is wholly due to the war in Europe and not at all due to anything that the Democratic party has championed.

The issue of this campaign at the moment is "Can Wilson get away with it?" Can you get a sufficient number of voters to believe in your campaign of misrepresentation and deception? If so, he can be elected. If not, he cannot. Personally, I have too much respect for the voters of this country to believe that your candidate can get away with it. I am confident that your appeal to the yellow streak in American citizenship will fail ignominiously as it ought to. It is enough to make the blood of any patriotic American citizen boil to walk down Forty-second street and see the American flag hung to the breeze from every window in your office.

You people are mighty prompt to wave the American flag but you are mighty tardy in defending and protecting it.

Yours truly,
GEORGE W. PERKINS.

He will speak at the Robinson Grand, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A cordial welcome is extended to all.

MAKING LOW WEIGHTS HAS HURT RING'S BEST PERFORMERS

Lot of fighters have signed agreements to make low weights, because they wanted the match, and later regretted it. Training down to a weight below the normal has hurt many of the ring's best performers. Other fighters have demanded low weights of their adversaries in important fights and thus won an advantage. But Nelson demanded low weights from Gans that were said to bring about the decline of his health. Mike Gibbons tried recently to work the trick on Jack Dillon, but Dillon didn't fall. Johnny Ertle, the bantam, was fooled when Benny Kauffman made a low weight for him and then outpointed him a while ago.

GOVERNOR FLAYS JOHN CORNWELL AS WATSON TOOL

When He Addresses a Great Crowd of Miners and Others in Logan County.

OMAR, Oct. 28.—Governor Hatfield invaded his native county of Logan last night and addressed a large crowd of miners here, speaking in defense of his administration and urging the people of Logan county to "vote for a continuance of the principles for which the Republican party has stood in the nation and state."

He referred to a campaign cartoon published in Democratic newspapers Friday depicting Judge Robinson in the strong grip of "Hatfieldism" and declared it would have been more to the point if it had shown Clarence Watson seeking to get a strangle hold on the state of West Virginia through an alliance of certain big interests such as he maintains in his hold on Marion county than in its application to a man who is retiring to private life and who is a candidate for no office.

He flayed Cornwell as the "willing tool of Watson" and made the charge that Cornwell had been retained by the Consolidation Coal Company as counsel during the legislative session of 1911, when Watson was elected to the Senate and declared he was reliably informed that he was on the payroll of Watson's coal corporation.

The governor read from the record as kept in the Senate journal where Cornwell had opposed every measure introduced for the interest of labor or had been in the category of being present and not voting.

"He even refused to vote for the bill to give a small increase to pay the school teachers of this state, but when it came to voting for a bill to provide damages for injury to railroad property Mr. Cornwell was on the job and voted for its passage," said the governor. "That, ladies and gentlemen, is the secret of the fact that he has been and is now riding about the state on a railroad pass and at the same time asking the suffrage of the people of West Virginia for the highest office within their gift."

"Do you think he would be free and independent, or do you think he would be subservient to the railroad companies that are giving him railroad passes to ride around on?"

The governor made a strong appeal in behalf of Judge Robinson and declared that he was for him because he knew that the principles of constructive legislation for which the Republican party had stood would be continued by Judge Robinson and would be safe in his hands. He said he knew that the state would go forward and would not go backward.

"Judge Robinson, as governor, can do nothing for me," he declared. "I expect to return to the practice of my profession and there is no political office that I seek. If there is, I will come out and take my chances before the people with the rest of them," declared the governor amid an outburst of applause. The audience gave the governor a

A HUGHES VOTE IS VOTE FOR PEACE

Candidate Says He Devoted His Life to Peaceful Settlement of Controversies.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Charles E. Hughes Friday told an audience here that a vote for him, far from being a vote for war, was a vote for lasting peace. He also declared that he would "leave to the secretary of war his difficulties in the effort to extricate himself from the unfortunate suggestions which were reported to have been made by him in a recent utterance. I shall not follow him in that utterance except to say that I marvel that any officer of the administration contemplating the atrocities by unspeakable atrocities narrated by the secretary of state only recently, should ever think of the revolution which gave us our freedom."

"It is said that a vote for me means war," Mr. Hughes continued. "What a preposterous suggestion! A vote for me is a vote for lasting peace, because it is a vote for maintaining the honor of the country, for maintaining both the self-respect and the esteem of all the nations of the earth."

"I am for Peace," He Says. "I am a man of peace. I have devoted all my life to the institutions created and maintained for the peaceful settlement of controversies. I am amazed at the charge that is thus brought in the light of the actions which our opponents have taken with respect to our neighboring country of Mexico. If there ever was a policy menacing to safety, a policy which was the opposite of a policy for the conservation of peace, it was the policy which was there pursued. If, indeed, it could, in view of the

VERY THANKFUL IS THIS USER FROM WESTON

EMMA J. BURNSIDE SAYS "GOD BE PRAISED" FOR NERV-WORTH.

The Burke Drug Store's Nerv-Worth sales not only continue to make almost unbelievable records in Clarksville itself, but the out-of-town demand for this matchless nerve tonic rises to higher levels every week. One of his Weston customers, Emma J. Burnside, is about the most enthusiastic Nerv-Worth user yet developed, as her letter, printed below and written some time ago, proves.

Burke's Drug Store—I wish to say that I have used one bottle of your valuable Nerv-Worth.

It has done me so much good and restored my nerves so greatly that I can say, may God be praised—and the man who invented the valuable remedy.

I could not sleep at night and my food did not digest and now I can eat and sleep so sweetly. I recommend it (Nerv-Worth) to all who are suffering from indigestion and nervousness.

EMMA J. BURNSIDE, Weston, W. Va.

To eat freely and comfortably—to sleep "sweetly"—what boons these are to troubled humans! Burke has Nerv-Worth ready for you. And if for some inexplicable reasons the tonic does not help, he will hand your dollar back.—Advertisement.
